

One Days Divine Principle Workshop

How to restore Human Values

Bucharest, Romania, 7. December 2013

CARP organized 1 Day Divine Principle Workshop for the new guests on Saturday. There was few people had attended WS. But the atmosphere was quite good as family. We were happy to be with guest for WS, happy day and lunch as brothers and sisters who are looking for higher meaning of life. The Divine Principle lectures were our main program. So we did our best efforts to convey the truth and guide them to the principled life center on God.

There are many attractive things for young people during weekend but how much those things gives them true value and hope for future? Our hope is that our young people could understand what is the true value and ideal center on God` love and principle.
