

CARP Hawai'i holds their first two-day workshop called Awaken

Jinil Fleischman
November 20, 2021

On November 19th and 20th, CARP Hawai'i held their first two day workshop called "Awaken," with the hopes of making it a once a semester event. CARP Hawai'i has three core members: R. Otsubo, K. Kawasaki, and R. Saito.

During Awaken, R. served as the emcee, being able to be flexible and entertain the audience. K. and R. gave presentations along with their advisor, K. Nakama. All the participants appreciated the content and received each lecture very well. Two CARP members attended for the first time as well as three local high schoolers.

Other CARP members helped as well. S. Chai took many beautiful photos of the workshop. R. Harding and T. Seto, though staying in another state during the workshop, contributed in behind-the-scenes preparations, like making flyers and ice breakers.