More than 40 people attended a side event at the United Nations for the 38th Session of the Human Rights Council.

WFPW organized this event in partnership with the Women's UN Report Network on the topic of Peace, Reconciliation, Rights and Development for South and North Korea.

Speakers included Benjamin Provost and his wife Yesung Kim, as well as Mee-Hyang Yoon from the Korean Council for Women.

Carolyn Handschin presented a proposal for meeting place for women from the two Koreas at the DMZ to prepare for the road to peace.
