While watching and participating in this video, I was amazed at how quick the result was. As I positioned myself in meditation, closed my eyes, and began to meditate, a clear vision came into my mind. This is the vision.

I don't know if you experienced this in your childhood. when the parents went away for a long period of time and children were left behind in the care of relatives. The children would miss their parents and would long to see them. And when the parents come home and children saw their parents walking home, children would overcome with love and joy and run fast to meet and greet their parents..

Well, this was the vision I had during meditation. In the vision, I was standing in a field with beautiful tall grass and trees, and far, about 3 blocks ahead, I saw True Father walking towards me. The wind was blowing the grass and the grass and trees were swaying as if they were excited to see Father coming. and far away, I saw Father was lifting a child in his arms with so much love, and other children were still running towards Father to greet him and have their hugs and kisses from Father. And one by one, Father will lift a child, hug, and kiss him/her and pass them to True Mother and, like Father, True Mother embraced each child with amazing love. as I was seeing the vision, tears were pouring on my cheeks.
