

SunHak UP Graduate University offers both doctoral and masters degrees

Thomas Selover
October 17, 2017

The SunHak Universal Peace Graduate University is now accepting submissions for their 2018 graduate program! Deadline to apply is November 10, 2017.

Our graduate program is looking for young adults with the passion to serve the world. Our motto is “Love God, Love Humanity, Love All Nations.” We aim to be the top educational institution focused on nurturing a new generation of peacemakers ready to enter all the pillars of society to spearhead the path towards world peace and Cheon Il Guk. Our three key areas of training are peace governance, global peace management and becoming spiritual leaders representing True Parents in all fields.

Falling in line with True Parents’ word and guidance, Universal Peace Academy and CheongShim Graduate School of Theology merged last September, becoming SunHak Universal Peace Graduate University. Together, this institution will embark on a new journey together.

The SunHak UP Graduate University is located in the Seorak Mountains near the Cheong-Jeong Museum in Gapyeong County, South Korea, 77 miles from the Incheon International Airport. Students have direct access to the Hyo Jeong Cheonwon complex and are surrounded by the beautiful Korean countryside.

Students can expect routine outings and trips alongside other second and third generation Unificationists from around the world. These trips offer the chance to create lasting memories and bonds of friendship while learning about our Heavenly Parent, our True Parents and our Unificationist roots.

Courses are offered in two languages: Korean and English, allowing students to learn in the language that makes them most comfortable to speak and write.

Dorms are available for foreign students. The SunHak UP Graduate University offers both doctoral and masters degrees.

Application deadline is November 10, 2017.