Hi Folks,

The Heavenly warrior battled with his health issues for several years.

Brian Goldstein my Comfort husband fought his last battle at 12:20 PST this morning he was joking with hospital staff when I called to say I was thinking about him but was coming a little later because I had to do sales.

Please pray for Brian he is going into uncharted territory. That we love him and we are proud of his love for God and True Parents.

He was constantly teaching and challenging me about creation and music art capital of states nations. He will be missed but happy for him that he is out of his pain.

I know he sends his thanks and love to you as I do. The funny brilliant artist, poet, romantic, sensitive man as he would say has hit the dust.

"Ha Ha Tee Hee that's me," said Brian.

May you rise to the highest heights to be with God, Jesus and True Father and Ellen Beth Goldstein; and your mom and dad and brother and all your loving relatives.

God Bless you.

You took me for an amazing ride.

Love

Gloria Frothingham-Goldstein
