Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I know that a lot has been going on as we draw closer and closer to the Madison Square Garden Event with True Mother and we appreciate everything you have all done so far to prepare yourselves. With that in mind, as you may have already heard, tomorrow morning on Saturday July 8 in the Manhattan Center we will be having our final prayer meeting before the arrival of True Mother to the United States. With that being the case, we highly encourage you all come join us tomorrow morning to make this final prayer meeting impactful and meaningful for True Parents.

It is very important that we have as many people possible attend since this will be our final chance to prepare our hearts to accept True mother. Thank you for you time brothers and sisters, and I hope to see you all there.

Rev. Kone
