

WFP Benin's conference for women leaders of the First District of Cotonou

Emmanuel Allognon

June 27, 2019

On Thursday, June 27, 2019, we organized a conference for women leaders of the 1st district of Cotonou. The first session began with the welcoming words of the President of the WFP-Benin, Mrs. Marie Jeanne Loko. Then followed a brief presentation of the WFP and its areas of activity by the secretary of the WFP Benin, Miss Aihwa Kpohinto.

Then Rev. Sasaki gave a first paper on social development, married life and the education of children. The second paper was that of Ms. Blandine Ehouman on the true family values. Finally, followed the debate section on communications. In the same way, the participants met each other by district and elected a representative from among them.

All the participants showed great interest and promised to participate not only in the renewal of families but also to work with the WFP Benin to mobilize women in their boroughs to participate as well.

At the end, we all had a family photo and a shared cocktail with great joy.
