

Giving some thought

I was giving some thought to Father.

The Messiah is God's accelerant....

I once was lost in my own head and lived my life mostly unconsciously.

Now I have found myself and I live a life of love and service.

I used to not care so much. Now I care for everything.

I used to live a life of upset and now I live with others in mind and heart.

I used to complain a lot. Now I serve a lot. I used to be so unhappy.

Now I don't dwell on my thoughts and find I smile and laugh a lot.

My Fathers and Mothers gave life and love to me.

I honor their lives and their love by being the man of love and life I am now.

I love my life. I love my wife. I love my family. I love my community. I love my country. I love my world. I love my God and all of creation. Life is good.

I once was lost and love found me. I am not a wretch; I am God's son.

I am filled with hope. It is an unreasonable thing. It makes little sense when compared to the world's headlines. I am God's son and it is my business to be like God. It is such a pleasure to give God joy.

I am the love the world needs – I didn't know that before.

Now I do. My Father gave me that understanding.
