The project's title was "Peace Road: to Derzhavin's Homeland." It was a cycling project in the Tatarstan Republic of Russia from August 5 to August 7, 2023.

The project was organized by the Universal Peace Federation (UPF) of Russia and the Union of Cyclists of the Tatarstan Republic to promote unity, cultural exploration, and religious understanding.

Supported by the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Tatarstan, the event brought together 30 core participants, including Orthodox pastors and 8 Second Gen children.

More audiences welcomed the cyclists in the towns on the way.

The project involved a cycling journey covering a distance of 120 km over two and a half days.

The route led participants through the native places of Derzhavin, the renowned Russian poet of the Enlightenment era.

The tour held significance not only for its physical challenge but also for its cultural and religious connections to UPF in Russia.
