Elisabetta Nistri, WFWP Italy President, was invited for a Talk Show on the theme: THE NEW HERO AT THE TIME OF COVID-19, organized by the PSV Academy together with professors and other speakers.

Elisabetta reported about the situation that many women were facing during the time of restrictions due to COVID-19. They were busy more than ever, working at home, taking care of children, helping them with school lectures on the web and their homework, and doing house work as usual. Everyone being at home for 24 hours a day was not easy, but for many women it has been even more difficult. Many have tried to help create harmony and remain proactive in a difficult situation. Many also took it as a good opportunity to create more cooperation within the home between themselves and their husbands and more opportunities to share good times between parents and children.

More than 100 students attended the webinar. They were very interested about the topic and asked several questions about women's rights. Elisabetta also invited AoP Virginia Vandini, Councilor and President of the Association "The Feminine Value," who gave very important advice on the conscious use of social media which can be a very important and useful tool - but if used incorrectly can also lead to serious consequences.
