On April 17, Jun Almeida of the Grow Group in Santo Amaro church, had the privilege of celebrating the Easter festivities with 570 unprivileged children from a public school in São Paulo, Brazil.

The event was attended by 120 volunteers who together managed to raise more than 170 kg of chocolates!

Each child brought a box of chocolate home plus the love and affection that the members and collaborators passed on to the children.

This was an important initiative to create a good vision of True Parents with society and to strengthen relationships with the volunteers who supported this project so that one day they could also meet the Celestial Parents.

This is the first event in partnership with the State School Professor Neyde Aparecida Sollito which has more than 1,300 students from elementary to high school. The school principal gladly accepted our support leaving the doors open for other actions such as events, lectures, professional education and character.

May this work be successful in honor of our beloved True Parents!
