WFWP, UK are a hosting a day long conference commemorating the UN International Day of Women. An exciting day of empowerment and learning!

About this event

On this day we will celebrate those who excel in their field as a way of cultivating and strengthening the community of women leaders, change agents and community spokesmen and women.

Women leaders and delegates from around the nation will meet to discuss the important steps women have been taking towards a shared vision and hope for their presences in public offices, business and community leadership to imagine together the way forward in turbulent and transformational times.

We'll be exploring...

- How has Women's leadership evolved in Community, Business and Public Office?
- Women's unique contributions in a time of transformation
- The Emerging Power of Women's Diplomacy towards Sustainable Peace

Women's Federation for Peace, UK

Organiser of The Emergence of Women’s Leadership in a Time of Transformation

The WFWP, UK is a branch of the Women’s Federation for World Peace International (WFWPI), an organisation established to promote reconciliation, education for peace, women’s empowerment, youth leadership training and humanitarian activities. Towards these ends the WFWP holds conferences and establishes local programs and projects in many nations worldwide. The WFWP is also engaged in advocacy at the United Nations and in government venues throughout Europe bringing together women from all walks of life, backgrounds and faiths to continue a discourse centralised around women’s propensity for heart and leadership.
