

Tallinn, Estonia Blessed Wives Share

Olga Martinson - April 22, 2019

On Mother Earth Day, April 22, there was a meeting of blessed wives in Tallinn.

They had lunch together at a restaurant and talked. Estonian national leader Olga Martinson shared some important words of True Father and spoke of her experiences with the providence of the Blessing. The sisters were inspired and showed a desire to also become tribal messiahs and pass the Blessing to others.

Then they enjoyed a walk in Kadriorg Park, which was built by Peter I for his wife.

Such meetings bring people together and help us to open our hearts toward each other, feel the joy of being together and do something more for the sake of the highest good.
