

Bridge of Peace Unites Russians and Kalmyks

Yuriy Gavrilin - October 12, 2019

An Intercultural and Interreligious Bridge of Peace program brought together Russians with people of the Kalmyk nationality.

The October 12 program in the Moscow Peace Embassy was organized jointly by the Women's Federation for World Peace (WFWP) and Family Federation for World Peace and Unification (FFWPU), with the support of two prominent Kalmyks: the Buddhist Lama Sanal, and Irindzhan, a famous singer, poet and Miss Kalmykia 2015.

This event was a precious opportunity for people of completely different cultures to come together and open their hearts to each other. It was very meaningful that not only women but also men and children took part in the beautiful Bridge of Peace ceremony.

In the first part of the program, representatives of both cultures described the history of relationships and different cultural and family traditions. This was followed by a wonderful concert of the Kalmyk and Russian cultures, which brought joy to the audience.

It was also precious that many college students came as volunteers to support this program practically. They became very inspired by the program and expressed their desire to help in future social projects.

