Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Thank you for your prayers. Hiroko Kamata has ascended to the spiritual world.

Hiro wrote last night: "Ever since the last update, there's been a new update with my mom. From the CT scan, they saw that the medications has made her brain damage worse.

So at this point there won't be any recovery, at least with her being conscious again. My dad and my brothers will meet with the doctor tomorrow morning to make a final decision.

But most likely, we won't continue with the treatment anymore. Because her condition has worsened, we are all at the hospital now and saying our final goodbyes".

Please keep Hiroko and her family in your prayers.

Thank you!
