Workshop on True Parents' Life and Foundation Day

Hyung Jin Moon
May 8, 2012

Purpose and Aim of Education

- 1) To elucidate the path of the Messiah, Savior and King of Kings identified in True Parents' life course, and the process of their victory in saving humankind.
- 2) To proclaim and clarify the principles and theology behind the providence of restoration and the inevitable courses that arose in the process of the restoration of lineage carried out through indemnity conditions and for the salvation of humankind.
- 3) To facilitate an understanding of Christianity and other faiths and of the footprints of True Parents' messiahship in the world, thereby dispelling misunderstandings surrounding the conversion of lineage and misconceptions that led to our movement being branded as a cult.
- 4) To provide focus in the lectures so that members can get an understanding of the current providential circumstances and of the path that we should take towards Foundation Day, leading to the revival and growth of our members in this era of the providence of re-creation.

Goals

- 1) First, to educate the key leaders of the world, then gradually have these leaders who have received this education educate the members worldwide
- 2) Education should be given to the leaders of the providential nations of Korea, Japan and the United States then to all its members
- 3) Participants: All leaders in the public mission and those employed in providential organizations worldwide, and key members
