If, Then. A Biblical Study of Dual Prophecy

2023. 09. 04 TN

All righty, folks. Thank you, Greg. God bless you, everybody...

Isaiah 53

Let's get into it today. Last week, we had a very deep study on Isaiah. But we'll jump to Deuteronomy chapter 28 today. You know, people don't understand. If you didn't grow up Christian or evangelical, you may not understand what Isaiah 53 is all about; you may not understand why Isaiah 53 is so big. It's such a big, big, big chapter. Isaiah is in the Old Testament or New Testament? Come on, quick, quick, quick! Okay, all right. We better at least know that much. It's in the Old Testament. So, why is that important for Christianity and a lot of the Protestant evangelical movements? Why is that? Because they use that. It is in the Old Testament, and it was written in Hebrew.

So, what are they doing? They're saying, "Look at this Old Testament text." It's the Word of God; all Christians have to, have to; they must, must, must. They MUST admit that the Old Testament is God's Word. Yes, or no? (Yes) That's right. And that Hebrew is the original language of God's Word in the Old Testament. Yes, or no? (Yes) Okay. They have to, have to, HAVE to admit that, otherwise they're not Christians.

Seriously! They're what's known as Marcion heresy. This is an early heresy. Marcion was a big trader; he was very good at building trade around the Mediterranean in the first century. And he basically said, "No! The old covenant, all of this is dead; it's over." So, he literally took out the Hebrew Bible and any references to the Hebrew Bible in Paul's writing, etc.; he took all that out. They were saying, "The Jews are done. They're done; completely done and the Hebrew tradition is over." This was a big thing in the Early Church period. So, if you are an evangelical or a Protestant you MUST, must, must, must, admit that the Old Testament is also the Word of God. You cannot get around that.

That's why we covered Isaiah 53. It's such a big chapter. I was hoping some of our guests would be here last week or this week when I'm talking about this stuff, because it's earth-shattering if you grew up evangelical. For the folks who grew up under the Principle under Father's authority, you have no idea what Isaiah 53 is about. I'm telling you, it's big. It's very, very, big if you grew up evangelical or Protestant Christian; if you grew up Christian it is huge, huge, huge, huge, huge. This is the pillar; it is like one of the Old Testament prophetic Word of God from the Old Testament Hebrew that says "Jesus came to die." So, it's huge. It's like a pillar of the prophetic tradition in Protestant Christianity. Catholicism also will acknowledge this. It's probably not as big as for evangelicals, but for evangelicals it's giant, giant, giant.

Everybody now knows why Isaiah 53 is huge. It's crazy big; it's fundamental to their entire worldview, "Isaiah 53 proves that Jesus came to DIE. He was supposed to be the suffering servant." You understand? "And God knew that hundreds of years before Jesus was born; God already had ordained that, hundreds of years before." That's where the whole argument comes up. That's why I say Isaiah 53 is so big; it's so huge.

You got to understand this context. For Christians it's a big deal like, "What? Isaiah 53 doesn't talk about Jesus coming to die? You're evil. You're heretic. You're Satan." It's literally that heavy. It's like a pillar of the Protestant evangelical faith; it's like a pillar of prophecy. That's like a big thing in the evangelical world. Isaiah 53, that is the proof, proof, proof, proof text that God PRE-ORDAINED that Jesus had to come to die. He knew about it, hundreds of years before.

That's why we looked at that last week; it's a very, very big chapter. If, for example, you're praying for somebody or witnessing somebody, you must know about Isaiah 53, folks, especially if they're Christians. You have to know about this issue because it's the pillar proof text that "Jesus comes to die." We covered that last week in great detail. But let's recap really quick.

We started in Isaiah 41 as some major examples of the book leading up to Isaiah 53. In the Tanakh (The Hebrew Bible) when you read these prophets, they're not numbered as in the King James Version. It's just written out; they're all part of one book. So, if you're in Isaiah 53, you are expected to have read Isaiah from 41 up to 53. If you're reading the Hobbit or Harry Potter or whatever; if you're reading some book, you can't just jump to page 533. You're expected to have started from page 1. Is that true? It's the same with the prophetic books in the Bible, both the Major and Minor Prophets in the Tanakh. This is why we covered Isaiah 53; this is the big deal.

Now we looked at Isaiah 41 and verse 8:

<sup>8</sup> But thou, Israel, art my servant, and the word is what? Abdi. It's the same word used in Isaiah 53 and verse 8; it's talking about servant, and the Christian Bible's suffering servant is the main subheading for Isaiah 53. So, they're focusing heavily on this word servant and in the Hebrew, what is that?" Abdi. Abdi is the word.

In 41, you saw it with your own eyes.

<sup>8</sup> But thou, Israel, art my servant. What is that word? Servant. What is that? Abdi, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

What is He saying? Israel, thou art my ?? servant. So, he's talking about a servant. Who is the servant? (Israel) Israel is the servant. Everybody's looking with their own eyes. Pastor Sean didn't make this up; it's right there in the Bible. This is now leading up to Isaiah 53.

Let's jump to Isaiah 42 verse 6. This is not a servant verse but it's talking about the righteousness of the servant.

<sup>6</sup> I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles;

Who is going to be a light of the Gentiles? Who is supposed to be called to righteousness? We just saw it at 41. It's "Israel, my servant". Does that make sense? There's a common theme here. As we're coming up to Isaiah 53, we are learning that Isaiah is talking about a servant abdi who is Israel. Or sometimes he calls him Jacob. Why does he call him Jacob? Jacob wrestled whom? (The angel) And after he wrestled the angel, what name was he given? (Israel) Yeah! That's why he calls the nation Jacob or Israel. One man Jacob, his name becomes Israel and from his seed comes the whole nation.

Isaiah 43 and verse 10

<sup>10</sup> Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant -abdi- whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

<sup>11</sup> I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour.

What did He say? Ye are my witnesses and my servant whom I have chosen. So again, whom is he talking to here? He's talking to Israel. Witnesses is plural but he uses servant abdi as the singular metaphor for what? The plural Israel.

So, we're leading up to Isaiah 53; that's why this is a big deal. That's why I hoped some of our Christian friends would be watching this or sitting in the service and we could show them. The evangelicals got so tired of losing the debate with us, and that's basically how they educated their people," Just don't talk to Moonies whatsoever. Just don't meet with them." That was their strategy. Because if they talked to you and they heard about the Principle, they'd get converted. That's what would happen. So, they would literally say, "Don't talk to them! They're from the devil's death bed! Don't come near them!" That's what they would say. That was the technique they had to employ, because anybody who heard the Principle and studied it with a competent teacher would become very high. Especially if they came from a Christian worldview and they understood the Bible. The more they understood the Bible, the higher the conversion rate. If they didn't know anything about the Bible, as Buddhists or something, they'd be like, "Oh, okay, who's Adam and Eve?" And those people would convert too. But especially if they were Protestants and they understood the Bible.

Some of the first disciples that joined in South Korea when Father was preaching were from Ewa University; it was like the Harvard of the female schools. The reigning chaplain of that university was converted; the protestant minister who was part of that Korean Harvard for women was converted! She became a Moonie. You all got to be proud of this, daggone it! And of course, from Ewa University, all these young people were witnessed too.

1st Gen on MFT: Be Proud!

By the way, we had some great meetings with some of our network folks around this area, strong Christians, very good people there, really helping us a lot, etc., and Kook Jin Nim made such a wonderful point. I've got to share this with you, with the First gen especially. First gen, don't be ashamed of you all fundraising and getting locked up in prison! Don't be ashamed of that, daggone it! You got to be PROUD of that! You all got street cred. You understand? You guys got locked up. This is the first gen; these are the people. These are some of our folks like Gregg, Lowell, these guys; you got to listen to their stories. But they don't share them; they just keep them to themselves. SHARE the dang stories! Man, we were sharing this with our network here, with the folks here, they're big-wig kingpins here. They LOVED those stories! They were having a hoot and holler! They loved those stories. They were saying, "Man! You Moonies are pretty cool!" (Laughing) DON'T BE ASHAMED of THAT! Daggone it! You understand you first gen? You got to get this out of your head.

They're making President Trump a federal felon. Do you understand? He's a federal felon now; he got all the street cred The whole system is against him. We are living in a time where God is now taking away that embarrassment. Don't be ashamed! The people who are locked up now are on the good side, because we've got a freaking commie government and a worldwide WEF commie revolution happening worldwide.

So, first gen, you all were BA; you all were gangsters in a good way. You didn't even commit any real crimes, daggone it; but they still locked you up. We got our first gen, they were sneaking onto level five, level six military bases. IN THE US! That's the freaking superpower of the world; we got nukes and everything. NOBODY sneaks into military bases! NOBODY! NOBODY does that! NOBODY does that in the whole dang world. Not one team can come and jump into a US military base in the eighties. NOT ONE group; nobody can do that. There was NOBODY that could do that.

These young people would be sneaking up on military bases. Apparently, they snuck up on a building of Lockheed Martin. This is the big war machine; the biggest military industrial complex producer," Hey! It's a building. Let's go for a trip!" You all were BA. You understand? You guys are freaking legends. What you all did for Father, don't be ashamed of that, daggone it! You were OG gangsters, cool. These young people were going up into these freaking military bases, level five security. This is maximum security. And they would be breaking in; they would be getting in there. The SWAT teams would come running on with a rifle. "Excuse me, sir would you like a rose for $2? You want carnations for $3?" They'd said, "What the hell are you doing here, boy? HOW did you get on this base? You'd be shot dead. You can't just roll up on a fricking military institution in the United States. Are you crazy?" These folks, oh my God! I don't know how you all did that. You did it with the Holy Ghost power. I don't know how you did it.

They snuck through three layers of barbed wire, razor wire, sniper fire. That's just ridiculous. And then they get up, "Excuse me, would you like to buy ... I have a deal. I have two roses for five dollars. One for three." Oh man, you all were crazy. You were crazy. You could have gotten yourself killed, but you were filled with the Holy Ghost. You understand? This went up to the joint Chief of Staff; it went up to the dang president of the United States, the superpower of the freaking world. It went up so high; it was such a national embarrassment. You got all these young Moonies showing up in the middle of the freaking military bases. They got twenty M4's and freaking grenade launchers pointing at them, "Get down, down, down, down, down!" They got on the ground, "One rose for $3!" Oh my gosh, you understand how crazy! You guys were crazy! You were crazy good though, okay. DON'T be ASHAMED! That's freakin' legend. You understand? NOBODY in the world did that; NOBODY! NOBODY in the freakin' world did that! That is so incredible!

One of our folks around here, he used to be a Hells Angel before he became a big politician; when he was younger, he was a Hells Angel. They beat people up.

"What would you do if that guy was a gay?"

"Well, we would beat the snot out of him. That's what we would do. This is back then. We would beat the snot out of him." You understand? You don't mess with the Hells Angels, okay? Anybody in the MC world, you all know. Anybody who is doing the training with the Rod of Iron Cavalry you all know; you've been educated. That's a very, very, very legendary team. They got all these stories, "Oh, I didn't know but all of a sudden that person who'd beaten their wife and got a warning, all of a sudden, their house burned down. Whoops, I don't know who did it." You understand? These guys don't play around. By the way, if you have those kinds of tough guys running around it's much cheaper for the taxpayer than having freaking federal bureaucracies doing it for you.

By the way, Peace Police and Peace Militia is all decentralized. You're going to have tough men rolling around the street doing watches, which is good. That's good. But of course, they're trained together and keep each other accountable.

The point is: We had a talk and then Kook J-Hyung was like, "Come on guys, share with them what you did. Share with them your stories in the military bases." So, some of them were sharing their story and these guys, their eyes were wide open. They couldn't believe that, "Oh my gosh! How the heck did you do it?" It was such an embarrassment to the United States government that you had all these crazy Moonies, young kids; they're all unarmed and they're just running around with flowers. Eighteen to twenty years old, smiling. "Hello, the Messiah has come. Would you like to buy a rose?" They've got all these crazy Moonies running around and they're showing up on military MAXIMUM security bases. It was such an embarrassment to the entire administration. Of course, they met Father. But also, at the same time, they couldn't report about it. They told the media, "Don't report about it."

The commies can't break in. ISIS and IS (Islamic State) can't break in. The Russians can't get into a military U.S. base. But somehow the Moonies, in their suits and with a rose and a carnation, are showing up in it. They're thinking, "Oh my God! What the heck is this group? Y'all are some North Korean spies or something." That's probably what they thought.

But of course, you talk to the folks that actually went, and they're like, "Oh yeah, I just went there, I just felt God was calling me there, I just went and knocked on the door." By crazy situations, they got in there somehow. And how many stories are there? There are a lot of these. You understand? It was a national embarrassment for the White House.

And of course, Father never told these young people to do that. They were just being led to go run around and try to make their fundraising goal. They were going to biker bars and they went everywhere. But you understand, first gen, don't be ashamed of that. Do not let the world make you ashamed of that. That is an incredible time and my gosh, you people have become legends in that whole world.

This was interesting. We were sharing with these outside folks whom we thought we had to hide this from, but this dude was a freaking Hell's Angel. You understand? He's been around the block a couple of times. Those kinds of folks, they loved it! They thought it was great! "Oh my gosh! I never did that! Boy, I like you Moonies! You know, you ain't that bad!" Okay, oh Lord! It was great! But anyway, first gen, don't be ashamed of that! That is SO freakin' legend, so legendary.

Good Gangsters

Why? Because the government now has become a totalitarian commie state worldwide and they of course want to start up with the stupid lockdowns and the corona crap again. Lockdowns for everybody; everybody will be a slave child again. But of course, they want to do it for the mail-in ballots and cheating and fraud. Very obvious! Even Trump is speaking about it now; he's speaking very hard against it. He's saying, "Well, the Democrats are now starting the lock down; at the appropriate time for the election, they're starting the lock down. We won't fall for it. Make America Great Again." He's speaking out strongly against this lunacy, that they're trying to push for the mail-in ballot and all that kind of stuff. And by the way he also said, "Vaccine mandates we will NOT have it." So even though he was stupid about the vaccine, saying, "Oh, I saved them." He stopped that horse crap manure and now he's saying, "Vaccine mandate, BAD!" So that's good; that's very good. <https://www.dailysignal.com/2023/08/30/we-will-not-comply-trump-says-covid-19-lockdowns-mandates/>

He's coming out hard, hard, hard, and what's happening? They have indicted him now four times with a Rico case as well on top of that. But now he's SUPER gangster. He's super gangster now. You understand? He's super, super gangster. And the whole thing about it is the American Founding Fathers, they're all gangsters. Every single one of them: George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Madison, all of them are gangsters. They're all gangsters; they waged war on the UK which was the biggest power in the world at the time. They're gangsters. If they lost, every single one of them would be dead. But they knew that; they knew that they'd get their head chopped off. They knew it one hundred percent, but they all fought and they were gangsters.

In America we like gangsters, we like gangsters; we like good gangsters. Why? Because Jesus was also a good gangster. WHY? Jesus was a federal felon under the Roman state. He was a federal felon; he got capital punishment. So, the root of Christianity too is a federal felon. Oh my gosh, you can't make this up! Now I'm not saying all federal felons are good; there are bad ones. But when the government becomes bad, it starts locking up good people as federal felons, and that's where we're at now, especially with Trump.

About Covid 2 & Civil War

Everybody understands that's the kind of craziness we're living in, and Europe is worse; Canada, Australia. Oh my gosh! Panama, New Zealand! Oh, my lord! The jackboot thug cops were throwing girls on the freakin' street, "Wear your dang mask!" Freakin' nazi land! Everybody lived through it; everybody saw it. Nazi land worldwide! All the Western white countries, you all became Nazi land. Is that true? Yes, it is. You all became freakin' Nazis. "Where's your paper? Where is your paper? Show your paper, the vaccination card." In France, you couldn't eat at a cafe without your papers. Freakin' Nazi land. You people are Nazis! This has become crazy land.

Why couldn't they do that in America? They tried. Even in Pennsylvania which is a purple state, they tried. They tried to say, "No going to church; you've got to stop the spread. No singing hymns; you've got to stop the spread. If you sing, you're going to spread the corona from Wuhan; you're going to spread the China virus. You can't sing any hymns in church." This is what they were trying to do because it worked. They did it in Canada, they did it in Europe, they did it in Australia. They weren't only beating people up; they were freakin' arresting people. They tried it here but of course it didn't work. We had a lot of compliant, weak pastors, etc., but we had a lot of strong pastors too, throughout the whole country, even in California. We have some very strong pastors in California; in Florida, all around.

Of course, in PA we didn't shut down either. Even though it was, "an order from the governor." He isn't God, daggone it! He doesn't get to determine whether or not God's people meet or not. Amen? Hell no! He doesn't get to decide. He's not God. And the Bible says, "Do not forsake the assembly of God's people". So, the governor is not going to decide, especially when God says that the people have to meet.

Why couldn't they do it, here in America? Because we have lots of, lots of, lots of Rod of Iron firepower, and we have lots of guns. And if the federal government pushes, pushes as they were doing in these other countries; if you push the American people too hard, too fast, too hard, at some point, it's obviously going to escalate. It's going to get verbal; it's going to get this and that.

Things will pop off then as in the Spanish Civil War. With the Spanish Civil War and Franco, they were doing as they do with Trump. They got the main opposition party leader and then arresting him; they put him in jail, and killed him in jail. Then, civil war broke out, exploded in pockets all throughout Spain. There was fighting all over; people were pissed off. They were fighting the local law enforcement, federal police; everything. The whole country went up in flames.

So, they tried to do the lockdowns in America; it didn't work so well. They stole the election but it didn't work so well. There was a lot of rebellion. They saw that the American people were quite rebellious, especially the gun owners. The stronger Christians, the gun owners, the bikers, these kinds of groups that God is calling now to be the remnant; these kinds of people were all against it. And if they pushed too hard, if they tried to beat up grandmas and freakin' arrest you for Facebook post as they're doing in Europe; if they tried that in America, boy you would have problems, you would have problems.

And guess what? Those policemen they want to go back home to their wife; they don't want to die over some stupid mandate. You know what I'm saying? They don't want to have a freakin' shootout with this and that neighbor throughout the dang neighborhoods throughout the country. They don't want that happening, folks. They want to go back home.

Because if it really pops off, it's going to be a big trouble for them. Big trouble. We have more guns in the United States than all of the law enforcement and military combined across the world. We have more guns than EVERYBODY combined. Everybody. Did you know that? I'm talking about the civilians. And if you think that just because you have nukes and F-14s as Biden said, that you can decimate civilian populations, think again. What happened in Afghanistan? A twenty-year war. The F-14s and the nukes LOST. Do you understand? People just running around in pajamas, long skirts, with fricking turbans and AK-47, they WON! They beat the superpower of the world! And they don't even have a gun culture there. Well now they do because of the decades of fighting.

But you think you're going to walk up in Appalachia, or freakin' Tennessee hills, and just F-14 and nuke everybody? There are every manner of caves and crevices that the local hillbillies know. It will be WAY harder than Afghanistan. Why? Because they're not just guys running around with AKs; they are trained military fighters that have fought for the US for freakin' thirty years of their life. In our civilian population, we have the most war fighters in the ENTIRE world. Now they're civilians because they've retired from the military and they don't have to give any hoots about what the pension is or if anything will be taken away from them. NO! They're out. So, if you think it's going to be easy to run a rampage over the US population, no, we got ALL these war fighters that have been fighting in all these stupid wars. They've been fighting and they are fresh. We got guys that in their 20s, in their 30s, their 40s, 50s, 60s, 70s; all of them they've been to war. Every single generation.

And when the federal government is running rampage and killing grandma and auntie for some stupid law or rule that they're passing. You understand? Now people start getting angry. But of course, there will be martyrs.

That's how any civil war breaks out. It doesn't break out as in the movies, "Okay. We're going to fight you. We're going to fight you here. We're going to fight you there." It doesn't break out like that; it breaks out very organic. A lot of pressure is building up. A lot of angst and anger is building, building, building culturally. And then things start popping, usually because of the political climate; some type of crazy climate, some type of injustice, some type of terrible tyranny from the powers that be, or whatever. And these things start popping off.

One brave person stands up, says, "Hell no! Kill me! Kill me! Kill me! I'm not taking it!" Like Crocodile Dundee in Australia. The movie was about a guy who is a crocodile hunter. When Australia did their gun buyback program, which is basically gun confiscation- they were forcing you to give your high-powered rifles in- that guy that the Crocodile Dundee movie was about, that Australian guy said, "Hell no, mate! I'm going down in the line of fire." He had a gunfight with the feds. He was a real Crocodile Dundee; that man he stood up against tyranny. Imagine if ALL the men in Australia did that at that time! It would have been done; it would have been over. They would still have their guns to this day and this corona crap, they would never have been able to do that. That's what people don't understand.

Father & Rolling Stone Magazine

By the powers that be when they're EVIL, the GOOD will become federal felons. You understand? That's how it works. Just like Jesus. Just like Father. He was a federal felon. In every freaking country he was a federal felon. Under North Korea, under South Korea, under Japanese colonial period, under the US. They got him for taxes; they got him for $1,200.

This is what's so amazing about this time. When we're talking to people, and we say, "Yeh, True Father was put in jail for tax evasion for $1,200," they laugh. Why? Because they know taxes are illegal; they're a joke. They know that taxes are being stolen and being sent to Ukraine to fund a freaking transgender diplomat over there instead of Maui, and they're sending $700 to Maui when the whole dang island almost was burned down. You understand folks? They know the taxes are being TOTALLY MISUSED.

So, this is incredible. We are living in a time when everything that Father did makes sense, everything, everything is coming to the forefront. Two weeks ago, Rolling Stone magazine with a circulation of thirty million wrote an article about us, "AR-15 pastor becomes MAGA rapper." I have another song coming out particularly about that by the way. (Applause) So, they wrote another article on Father two weeks ago.

<https://www.rollingstone.com/politics/politics-features/sun-myung-moon-unification-church-climate-change-denial-1234808552/>

Father traumatized those commies so freakin' hard. ELEVEN years after he ascended to Heaven; ELEVEN years later they're still traumatized. They got to write a whole freaking paper about him for their thirty million subscribers. That's how TRAUMATIZING Father was for the commies, BOTH the neocons and the freaking Left. He would harangue the Bushes. He called Bush, Satan into his freakin' face and he damned the Bush's administration especially when it went to Iraq and started that ridiculous war, killing over a million innocent people. Father was not some kind of Republican neocon. He would slam the stupid neocons and of course he would slam the Left too. They're the forefront of the commie insurgency and the neocons are part of their group but they're not the leaders.

Look at this! When was this written? August 20 2023; that's eleven years after Father has ascended to Heaven. It's been eleven years! Eleven years ago these kids were freaking babies. You understand? Look how big these kids are now. Eleven years ago! That's how traumatized they are by Reverend Moon. And what about "How Sun Myung Moon digested the scientists and fueled climate change denial." YES! (Applause) YES! He did! Hallelujah! Yes!

And you thought we were making up the fact that Father was at the forefront of exposing political Satanism, huh? We ain't making this crap. Look at it. They're writing about this eleven freakin' years after he ascended. Give me a break. How neurotically traumatized you have to be! Eleven years after Rev Moon ascended to Heaven, you have to write an entire article about him, "How he fueled climate change denial." Because it's part of their freakin' CULT, their climate change CULT, where they want to tax everybody for breathing carbon dioxide gas, literally. It doesn't even sound real because it's so ridiculous, it's so crazy. But it is true; that's what they do. Look at the date on that! August 20th 2023. This was not on August 20th of 2013; this is 2023. He just wrote this then, okay? They got to think of another one. "How to make a cult" on Netflix is going on right now about Father too apparently.

No Gun-Free Zones

I think it's very similar to the A&E cable television kind of stuff; the same baloney, where they're trying to blame us for mass shootings. They do this to gun owners constantly, every time there's a mass shooting, "It's all the gun owners! You people love guns more than children." NO! If you love children, STOP making all the places gun-free zones. 98.3 % of the dang mass shootings are on gun-free zones! STOP the gun-free zones crap if you love children. Let people defend the children. Let the teachers that have a legal concealed carry permit defend the dang kids.

These lunatics, when they want to go shoot up something, they understand that where the kids are, it's a hard target. It's not soft. In Israel as well; they had one mass shooting before they instituted that the teachers in Israel, they all had to carry. Mass shootings disappear. They evaporated. No more mass shootings. No more people shooting up schools. Why? Because you're going to get killed if you do that. You'll be killed very quickly, and that's good. That's good. If you're trying to massacre young children, you should die. That's 100% true. That's just. 100%. So, they don't go and search for weak targets; they search for hard, hard targets.

No Power is Invincible

The point is: you first gen, don't be ashamed. You guys did something incredible for an incredible time. You paid that indemnity price, but you did something so unbelievable. And what does it show? It shows as in Afghanistan as well, that just because a power looks big and formidable, it doesn't mean it's invincible. In fact, the U.S., with our superpower and all our deadly forces and all our nukes and all our F-14 fire jets and everything, we've lost so many freakin' wars. We've been losing how many wars since Vietnam? We've been losing almost everything. So just because something is big organizationally, doesn't mean it is strong. Do you understand? Especially when it's a centralized hierarchy. That's the weakness of political satanism. It seems strong, because they have control of the media, they have control of the narrative, they have control and they're pushing up this constant message. But INSIDE there are fractures and fissures; INSIDE, there are competing groups that are trying to kill each other. You understand? It's a beehive. It's not as strong as it looks.

It's like in Star Wars, spaceships that would walk with big legs. You know the government makes something like that. If they make a big building with long legs walking like this that's eight hundred tons, you know the federal government has done that. The stupidest design you could ever imagine in your life. All they needed is some twine. They just got some steel cord; they bought it off on Amazon or Walmart or some something. They got it for twenty bucks. They took out an eighty-million-dollar piece of equipment for $20. That's your good tax payer money working hard for you. It's a ridiculous example but it shows how ridiculous it is.

It's not as big, it's not as impervious as it seems. That's why they have to control the story; they have to control the net. They have to have ALL the media telling the same thing and say, "Orange Man bad! Trump bad! MAGA people are all domestic terrorists." They have to do this. They have to. If they can't control that story, all the reality of their own backstabbing, inner groups trying to kill each other and competing for power, all that starts being invisible. All the pedo rings which they use to blackmail people, all that becomes visible.

Vivek, Trump & Tucker

Now we have people like Vivek Ramaswamy whom by the way, Trump said he would probably take as his VP; that he was open to it, which is quite amazing. If you have not seen it go see Vivek's interview on the Andrew Frisella Show. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yzlMEJD96tI> Andrew Frisella huge patriot, big guy. He's the founder and CEO of First Phorm Protein Powders. He's like a bodybuilder guy, a good dude, super patriot and he's hitting Vivek hard with the questions. Vivek's answering quite well and saying, "You can be skeptical of me; I just share my principles etc." It's a very good interview. Obviously, he's not going to be president because President Trump is going to be president, but if Trump brings him in as VP... Look at this. He's a good-looking thirty-eight-year-old Indian man.

What do they say about Republicans? "Oh, you white supremacists, all you want is white men in there." Now you can't say that if he's a VP; if you got a brown man, an Indian man sitting right up there next to President Trump. And by the way he's the only candidate that is not attacking Trump. He' not attacking Trump. He actually publicly says, "President Trump is the best president we've had in the twenty-first century." He's smart and basically, he's putting a strategy to become the VP, not the president because he knows Trump is fifty points ahead. Come on! Nobody's beating Trump; he's fifty points ahead. Unless they kill him, which is probably what they want to do.

But the more people know about it, the harder it is to do. That's why Tucker is protecting Trump. When he was on the Tucker X Interview, Tucker asked him straight.

<https://slaynews.com/news/tucker-carlson-asks-trump-the-million-dollar-question-do-you-think-theyll-try-to-kill-you/> He said,

-"Well, they tried to riot, they tried to indict you, they tried to put you in prison, they tried the Rico case, the only thing left there is now is to kill you. What do you think about that?"

\"They're savages, Tucker. Tucker, they're savages. They're very evil people."*

Tucker brought that up twice in a forty-minute interview. He's trying to tell the American people, "Everybody, alert! Red alert! (Imitating siren sound) They're trying to kill Trump." That's what he's doing.

He's putting it out far and wide. Three hundred million people plus within one week saw it. Three hundred million within the first day! It had six times the number of viewers of the Super Bowl in the first day! In the first day, six times the number of the watchers of the Super Bowl! You understand? That is unheard of. It broke the internet. It's the biggest interview in the world ever.

The top interview up to now was Michael Jackson and Oprah Winfrey. Trump and Tucker have surpassed Michael Jackson and Oprah Winfrey. The same Oprah Winfrey whose houses did not get touched in the fire. She hired private security and firefighters to protect her house while she let everything else burn, I guess, and she also hired private security to prevent other people from coming into her multi-million-dollar mansions, two of the properties have a thousand acres, while the whole freaking thing is burning down. And now she has the gall of coming on social media saying, "We started a fund and we'd like you to donate." Everybody's saying, "Jump in a lake, you disgusting pimp!" If she had given one year of her salary with her billion-dollar friends they could have built everybody a mansion. But NO! They want us to send the freaking money to Ukraine where they can funnel it to the Democratic Party, and of course build the operations to STEAL this election that's coming in 2024.

Deuteronomy 28

Oh my gosh. We have so much to study! We didn't finish with Isaiah but if you want to get a refresher on that, go back to see last week's sermon.

<https://rumble.com/v3c9zt0-sanctuary-church-sunday-service-08272023.html>

Deuteronomy chapter 28 is a very important chapter and it's also connected with Deuteronomy chapter 30. In this scripture there are "if" and "then" conditionals. These are: if you do something, this will happen; if you do the other thing, then the other thing will happen. What does that mean? That means people have free will. If the nation obeys God's commandment they're going to be blessed; if they do not, they're going to be cursed. This whole chapter is quite long; it's 68 verses of how you're going to get wrecked if you don't do this.

It's literally like, "and your mama, and your sheep, and your lamb, and your goat. Everything is going to be destroyed. You're going to wreck everything." It's quite intense because it's happening to the country right now. It's happening worldwide It's literally happening. You can see that all the things God is talking about in this chapter are happening. That's what happens to a nation that has turned away from God. You can go through each one, and it's literally happening.

Deuteronomy 28 verse 1-7

<sup>1</sup>And it shall come to pass... what's that word? IF. That's the big word. It should be in capital letters. IF IF IF!

<sup>1</sup>And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, ...

So, you harken on the voice, and what? You have to do the commandments. That means you have to listen to God. Is that right? You may not be perfect at it, but you have to adjust your behavior to the best of your ability so it may be in alignment with God. Nobody's going to be perfect at it, but you have to adjust your behavior. That means you have to have mind-and-body unity, control yourself and adjust your desires and behavior to what God has commanded.

... that the LORD thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth:

<sup>2</sup> And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, IF thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God. There it is again! IF, IF etc...

And then from verse 3 it goes on:

<sup>4</sup> Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

It just goes on and on. How many incredible blessings are going to happen IF? IF is the big world- IF, IF, IF, IF they obey God's commandment. Do you see that? As a nation it's not just about BELIEVING in God's commandment; you have to OBEY it. That makes sense folks? That means the dominant culture has to be in OBEDIENCE to God's Word. Not like America and the West; Europe is a joke. America is more religious than Europe, still, but it is a joke.

Imagine if the Churches had Taught Divine Principle Chapter 2

This whole culture of dating, it goes DIRECTLY against God's Word but in America the "Christians" are dating. They're having sex; they're freakin' banging one another. Are you insane? In the Bible that's called fornication. And this is mainstream. You're talking about Southern Baptists, about Pentecostals; it doesn't matter. Their children are dating and the parents are not teaching them, "Don't fornicate, you horndog! Control your pee-pee, and control your wee-wee if you're a girl; control it. Don't be playing around with pee-pee and wee-wee!" In the Christian world this should be NORMAL. This is a NORMAL part of the Christian world, NORMAL part of God's law, ethics and commandments.

So, the Moonies are not so crazy after all! You've been calling us heretics the last 50 years but it comes out that WE are not that crazy! After Christianity has died because of fornication culture, the Moonies don't look so crazy anymore!

Online, you watch all the Christians, "Oh man, I hearken back to those good old days when we had Christian values." On the next post, "Honey, let's go; it's ladies' night!" You're nuts, girls! You're crazy! They're drinking; they're nuts. You're smoking crack! You're crazy.

But then the Christians that are real, whom are they looking to? "Man, those Amish people! Boy, those Amish and Mennonites, they're just so wonderful." They have these viral videos with Mennonites girls, like fourteen, fifteen, sixteen-year-old girls. They're just cooking and one of their friends is filming them and asking:

"Girls, do you know who Cardi B is?" That's one of the slut-twerking strippers on the TV or whatever. "Girls, do you know who Cardi B is?" They're like,

- "No."

"Do you know this Hollywood actor?" They're like,

- "No. No."

They're not soiled by the secular culture They're just in the homestead. They're homeschooled, they know how to tend to animals. And all the guys are saying, "Oh my gosh! These women are incredibly God sent."

Why do you think they're like that, you bums? Because in the Mennonite and Amish culture they're taught NOT to FORNIFICATE! Ah, but you've been making fun of the Moonies and the Mennonites and Amish for last forty or fifty years while you were playing around being sluts! And that's a church? That's a "Christian Church"?

Imagine if they had listened to the Principle and chapter 2 and they had understood the seriousness of the sexual fall, and if in the 1970s, when Father was here, every church in America had taught that, hard and strong. You would have a different culture; you would have a totally different culture. Why? Because the way to break down a stable culture is to break it down through what? Bad sex. That's how you break it down. Because it's a drug, and if you make that fire come out of the furnace and jump on the walls, it's going to burn your house down. Satan knows that.

Can you imagine if they had been teaching this to the young kids in the 1970s and 80s? You'd have a generation of people that are strong in morality; strong. You would have young people that would have invested in their marriages, instead of their little career and their little job, working for some other person stealing their money. NO! They would have been putting that money into THEIR assets like their marriage and their children. I'm not talking about putting money into your children like giving them money so they become like commies. NO! But by making them do hard stuff, hard training, you'd have a different generation of kids.

Imagine if every church in America... Look! Come down to Tennessee! Every street has a church; every street has a little church right there. Everybody's a pope here; everybody's a prophet here. Every street has got a church. Imagine if every single one of the churches was teaching to have discipline over your sexual organ, to have discipline over your sexual desire when you're young, and to save that for marriage. And then when you get married, "you go baby, go, you go, you go!" "You go, you ride that wave, and you have an amazing time glorifying God, investing in romance and your sex life. All things that everybody wants in the outside world, but they can't have it. Why? Because they're freaking FORNICATING! You're diminishing and burning down the value of it. It doesn't mean anything because you've now degraded it. Is that true?

Sexualized "Christian" Culture

Imagine if every church was teaching even just chapter 2 and the fall. And telling the young kids, "Don't freakin' copulate, fornicate till you get married. That's what God said." No, but what have the Christian churches done? What has the body of Christ in the West done? America is kind of like the kingpin of the West. So, look at the kingpin of the West: what have they done? You got Christian girls running around in thong bikinis on the dang ocean beaches and you got them fornicating with every manner of Christian “men.” Are you kidding me? How in the world are you going to get God's blessing behaving like that? You see?

As a Christian daughter of God, you should never be showing off your body to other men. That is a holy thing. You don't just strip naked on the beach for everybody to see. That's something intimate for your MARRIAGE only. In marriage you get buck naked all you want, baby; you can wear all the bikinis you want. But not for everybody to see. That's for your husband to see. Amen! So, if you really have to wear a thong bikini, wear it for your husband. Don't be a brain-dead zombie! But that's what the Christian culture has become.

So, how are you going to get the blessings of God? How are you going to have stable families, stable marriages without adultery and fornication if you are freakin' allowing the adulterous culture in the “body of Christ”? These are supposed to be people who are following Jesus? Well, let's say, you take that to the farthest logical premise. Jesus himself was celibate, then they should all be celibate. Jesus himself was celibate. So, okay, let's say they don't like the Moonies, they don't like us, they don't want to hear Divine Principle. Fine! Look at Jesus! He's not fornicating. At least the Moonies are saying, “We should get married.” If you look at Jesus, he's celibate. Now, you got it worse off because you're trying to throw away the Moonies. (Laughing)

You see what I'm saying? Ridiculous. This is how fast a society downgrades and degrades when the sexual ethics... The sexual union of man and woman is supposed to be for marriage and that's where it's supposed to be amazing and fun and ecstatic and scintillating and super-hot, super sexy, super good. That's just for marriage, though. That's not supposed to be anywhere else.

Let's give it up for our young people; they're making all the babies here. (Applause) They're making a very important decision in their young life not to become dead slaves; not to throw away their youth to some mega corporation, international conglomerate that is going to just suck them dry, throw them out, and put them in a massive debt. The government school system will, and by the time you're thirty or forty, 97% of your eggs are dead. And don't believe the stupid lie about, “Oh, let's freeze my eggs.” One freaking egg to freeze is anywhere from $18,000 to $40,000. One egg. One egg! And how much failure is there? It's over like a 90% failure? So, you got to freeze a lot more than one egg. Who has that kind of money when you're freakin' twenty or thirty years old?

What a lie they've been telling the girls! They got you Western girls totally lied up; giving your youth, selling it away so that Soros and Rockefeller can take that money, and then teaching you to be slutty and to fornicate and build TERRIBLE habits which are going to wreck your freakin' marriage. You're never going to respect your dang husband because you live like a freakin' fornicator. You have TERRIBLE habits; you become a TERRIBLE person. You're not patient with anybody. You've learned all the wrong things. Stupid Western culture!

That's why, remember? Father was always whooping on the Western women and the demonic things which the Western world has now gone into; generally speaking. There are still some good ones, like the Amish, the Mennonites and the Moonies. Especially the Moonies under Father's authority. Those are the only Moonies left.

CIG Kingdom Culture

But can you imagine if the culture of all the Christian churches were to empower the young people to become kings and priests, queens and evangelists, to have STRONG marriages, to highlight and celebrate how amazing and enjoyable romance and sex life is in marriage? Hallelujah! (Applause. Hallelujah!) Absolute sex is Jesus' teaching, so you all are doing good. You're doing good. But imagine that!

Investing in those key assets as a king and priest; investing in the holy matrimony which ties together the kingdom. Husbands loving their wife, raising their wife in love. Wives respecting their husband unconditionally, respecting him; treating him as a KING. This culture. Investing in children. Not seeing children as a one-million-dollar liability per child. They tell you these LIES like, "Well, each child is going to be one million dollars. It's a one-million-dollar liability. Everyone is a million dollars." That's the biggest fattest lie in the world. It's not a million dollars. The Bible calls a child a blessing. With a child you've just MADE a billion dollars, a billion; a thousand million. You're not down a million, you're up 100,000 million.

Now you have to manage that asset well. You start with that, but now you've got to make sure it grows and becomes a good person, a godly person. That's where the training comes in, mind-and-body unity training, parents training with the children, one-on one-date, all this kind of training. That's why when the young people have the babies, and then now the parents, the mommy and daddy are training, then they learn.

Formation Period- 0 to 7

When your kids are younger, you have to ACCEPT your position, even though you're young, as a young king, young queen. You have to accept that identity. That means your children must respect your authority. Don't be these little weak, these little betaized, government school little, "Oh, we do everything a different way. What's your truth? What's your value, child?" NO! They've got to learn your authority as husband and wife, as daddy, mommy, at least the first seven-year formation period. Seven years, they have to be obedient; they learn obedience to the parents.

You don't ask them, "What is your truth? What is your value?" You got these girls in California talking about, "I don't speak down on my children." So, when the children are going nuts on the ground, they lay on the ground; they're laying down on the dang ground, saying, "I affirm you. I love you." You lunatics. That's why these kids become NUTS when they get older, freakin' thinking they can rag and run everybody. Give me a break! The Hell's Angels will take care of that real quick.

The point is: No, in the formation period, zero to seven years old, they must respect your authority as parents. That doesn't mean you're a tyrant, especially daddy, because you're the king. You know, they may try to push the button on mommy a little bit, and girls are a little softer so they let them do that a little bit. But if they do that to daddy you should be, "No!" Do you understand that? They have to feel and understand your authority.

For example, in one of the trainings, we have the young kings calling their kids, "Come here, baby." And the baby doesn't listen; he or she runs away. Well, what should you be doing? You should not just be, "Oh come here; come here. Let me chase after you. Let me explain to you." NO! That child should not think he can run away from his father, especially when he's young. That child is disobeying you when you said, "Come here." Obviously, you didn't say, "Come here" because of something frivolous or stupid. You want the child to come here because it's too late, or he's about to fall into a lake, or whatever it is, okay? You have a reason. At that age, you have to teach authority, so when daddy says something, you're not getting away. You don't get to just run away from daddy.

So, at one training, what do we do with the boys? When their child disobeys them and starts running away, you run and go get them. You're faster than them. They're less than seven years old. You may be three hundred pounds, but I don't care. You're still faster than a seven-year-old. You'd better be. You'd better be or we're going to make you do some push-ups and get into a jujitsu program. You'd better be able to run down and catch a freakin' seven-year-old, okay? If you're not, you're not doing your kingly duties. Get your lazy ashtray off the Cheetos and do some squats, daggone it!

But you understand what I'm saying. You go run and get that boy; you run and get him. He should not feel he could run from daddy when he's that young. You don't let a child disobey you like that and get away with it. What kind of freaking men are you? Western men, you guys freakin' drive me nuts! This is OBVIOUS in Korea. I mean, come on. It's like ridiculous. I get angry that I have to explain this stuff. You don't let a child just disobey you when he's a baby. He's not your authority; you are the authority in the home. You understand? You are the father so you have to maintain and protect your authority.

When that child is freakin' three years old and running away, it's not cute. If you let it be a habit at that age, you're going to let it be a habit for five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten. By the time he's a teenager, you're done. Those are the kinds of kids that go crazy in their teens. They say, "F-you dad I'm out of here." How did that happen? It did not start in their teens. People are brain-dead. It started TEN years before, because you let him disobey you and get away with it.

So, there's a difference. Christian parents, you maintain your AUTHORITY because that's not something you made up. GOD gave it to you; it's your freakin' responsibility. You understand? Young kings, it's your responsibility; God GAVE you that authority. Don't let it be trodden on, especially in the first seven years. So, you go and catch that boy, "No, no, no. You don't run from daddy. When daddy says, 'Come,' you come."

Let's say the baby doesn't want to go, and cries. Then you hold his hands and you let him walk. You take about 20- 30% of the weight off. Then you walk with him; you walk him like - bent down- and you walk him back. And as you keep going then you slowly start spreading and let him walk next to you. You see what I'm saying? This stuff should be BASIC. But you know a lot of the younger men may not have seen that in their home. That's why you may have a family breakdown.

You must definitely not do that when you are training and raising your children. In the first seven years, formation period, you establish your proper authority that God has given you. It doesn't matter about your feelings; you have to be authority for that family. You establish it and there's law and order, rule of law.

The Teenage Years- 7 to 14

Now once they go to the growth stage, seven to fourteen, the Principle kind of breaks it down pretty powerfully. The growth stage, seven to fourteen, that's the age when they're entering the teenage years. Now you cannot overdo it with the authority and the law. If you continue to do that with your teenagers, mark my words... Don't be saying, "Well, the 2nd King told me to maintain my authority." You weren't listening. You fell asleep during the sermon, you bum, bum! I said from zero to seven approximately. Don't be saying, "Oh, well. I thought the King said ..." He's a freakin' fourteen-year-old kid now! You don't treat him like a seven-year-old, okay? You understand? You don't DO that! Once they get near the teenage years, now you have to start building conversation.

The Queen has them studying the books. It talks about building conversation. Meaning what? In that period of growth, now this is where you have to move from ... The seven years of authority have been established. They already respect you if you've done it well. They already respect the authority of the father. They already respect the authority of the mother because the father will stand up for the mom.

Respect Your Husband

You Western women are taught do the opposite of your husband. That's RETARDED! Do not do that! NEVER do that! You are one team. If your children feel that they can get the opposite with mommy, they're going to split you apart. DO not do that! You have to show unity. Western girls, you got to understand your culture is telling you the opposite and teaches you how to fail. Do not do that. You respect your husband EVEN if you didn't AGREE with him while he's telling the child something. Don't have an argument with him in front of the child. Oh! God! I don't know why I got to tell this to your daughters. Oh my God! It's ridiculous. Give me a break.

But how can you blame them? You've never been educated. You never received any instruction; in fact, you only received the bad instruction from the culture. You've only received failed instruction. That's how the devil makes it; that's how political satanism makes it. NO! You don't do that! You don't do that for your kids.

You show unity even if you don't understand. If your husband said, "Nope, this is how I want it done." At that moment you may not understand the back story of what happened, but you take your husband's SIDE. Is that hard to understand? That is so easy to understand; anybody on a team understands this. Now if you don't understand it, then you talk to him later at a separate time, and ask "Well, why did you tell them to do that?" You see what I'm saying? You do that LATER when they're not watching you. Oh, come on! This is like white-belt level. Don't do that. Why? Because that would disrespect your man. You have cut down his authority in front of his CHILDREN. Meanwhile, you expect him to have authority, and you like it when he has authority with the kids because they listen to him and they listen to YOU! Western girls, you have been brainwashed in a terrible way. Weaponized brainwashing. Do not do that! Show unity.

That's mind-and-body unity training; that's very important. If you feel like, "Oh, I got to talk, I got to say this!" No! You don't get to say something all the time. You can have control over yourself and ask your husband later. Is that a hard thing to understand? CONTROL yourself like with anything else and just ask him later. It's that simple, but it maintains his authority. You got to protect his authority. If you don't protect your husband's authority, guess what? Your kids won't respect YOU because that's your job. You as the queen are supposed to protect the king's authority. They'll listen to you if you protect the king's authority.

Why do the kids listen to Mommy in my family? Because the Queen protects my authority. If I tell the kids to do something, she's not going to go, "Well, well, well, why is this?" No, she doesn't do that. She trusts my authority, and she's seen twenty-five years of leadership, so she trusts me. The kids know that; they can't play games. They won't play games; they know Mommy and Daddy are completely vertically aligned. You see how that works? It's not that they're perfect or anything, or anybody's perfect, but the point is, that has to be critical. Very, very important.

The girls in the West are taught, "You just lash out, you just interrupt whenever you want." That's why all these women are getting kicked out of the door. That's why these men, they don't want to marry you. They don't want that kind of belligerent always-fighting hostile female in the house. Who does? You're being taught the opposite; don't do that. Have discipline. That's why training is so important. Have discipline; control your mind and body. Control your MOUTH! Is that true? The power of life and death flows from the mouth, from the tongue. Right?

Don't Nag the Kids

This is why we train the young queens. Now you're raising your kid and you're training; you've got to watch the nagging. Don't be the nagging mom. You're not disciplining your mouth. Keep it in. Don't nag the children, especially boys. If you keep nagging the boys, I guarantee you, it's going to come back to bite you. They're going to go to Satan; there is a big chance they will go to Satan.

That's one of the first things we did when I was training with the Queen in the early part of our marriage. I told her, "No, don't nag the kids." Very, very important. So, I would be there helping her to stop nagging if she got into it. Females get emotional; they want to give it to them. But it doesn't work. It doesn't work for boys, especially when they're in the growth stage. It doesn't work anymore. It works in the formation stage when they're seven. After that, it doesn't work anymore. I know that because I raised a lot of males and young people. I told her, "No, no, no, baby; not now. No, don't do it now." So, she set times, and she got real disciplined with that.

All our boys really appreciate that about Mommy. Because she put in that work and she unified that mind and body, and the desire to want to nag them; she controlled it. She didn't just use the, "I'm a woman. I want to just be able to say what I want, and vent on you." This kind of terrible Western culture excuse to harm the children and drive wedges in their relationship, that's a terrible culture. In the Western world the women are taught they're able to nag people, but if they get nagged then that's oppression, "I'm oppressed! I'm oppressed!" Give me a break! People are crazy.

This is what Father was harping on; Father was chastising this evil hypocritical culture. NO! Nobody likes to get nagged constantly for things, especially boys. We understand; we don't want to get nagged about it. Right? This kind of discipline is very important. Anyways, the whole training of twenty years cannot be condensed in a matter of ten minutes in a sermon.

The point is, that training is very important. In the first seven years, you younger parents, you've got to make sure you maintain that beautiful godly authority, strong authority. You do it with love, but you maintain that authority so your child knows YOU are the king of that home. When daddy says something, it's going to be done. You don't let him run away; you don't let him do his own thing. When you tell him to do something, it's going to be done, and you'll sit there and coach him through it. You won't do it for him, but it will be done. I don't care if he's going to be sitting there until the next morning, you're going to make him do it. You show him the authority.

Evangelizing

Now in the growth stage then of course you've got to start evangelizing, witnessing because in the growth state period, they're going to start wanting to become atheists. That's natural; they want to go the opposite way of the parents. Just like all of you did when you were young, they want to go the opposite way of the parents. So now they want to become atheists, or they want to become this or that. Whatever, right? Something else. They want to prove you're wrong.

Well, at that age, now you've got to enter into witnessing mode; you've got to change your hat. Now you can't just do, "Daddy told you to do it; you do it now." It doesn't work now. Fast is slow and slow is fast. If you do that, they may listen until the age of ten, so they may endure three years of that but after ten, they're going to be secretly rebelling in your home constantly; secretly, they will be rebelling and they will secretly have more and more evidence of why they should hate you. And everything you do that they feel is wrong will be stacked upon, stacked upon, stacked upon and they will create this entire psychological log of why they should hate you. You understand how that works folks? Guaranteed, it's going to happen.

So, when they're in the growth stage you got to be understanding of this; you got to be wary of this psychological log database that they're going to try to create on you saying that you are an oppressive daddy; even though you are just maintaining your authority. That's why your wife was happy and the children had order in the home. But once you get into the growth stage, now you've got to start evangelizing. You've got to start training, you've got to start discussing theological matters, you've got to start studying apologetics, leading them into those higher-level discussions where you're now talking theology. You're allowing them to develop their logical facets, their faculties, and you're helping them guide through it.

If you don't do that, and most parents don't do it at all with their children even though they come to church every week, they're like, "Oh my gosh, they came to church every week, I don't know what happened to them." Oh my gosh, how can people be so naive? I mean, come on. It's ridiculous. Nothing is like that, right? If people follow you, especially young kids, they want every reason to hate you, every reason; they want a whole psychological log of why they're oppressed. They want you to treat them like a religious authority, so that they can turn it on you and say, "You abused your authority." You see what I'm saying?

So, in the growth stage, that's where you've got to start really evangelizing, as if you were dealing with a new person. And sometimes they may say things which insult you like talking about theology, "I don't think that's a really powerful theology. I don't think that makes any sense." Stuff like that. You can't be like, "Oh! HERETIC! HERETIC! Satan has gone into you." Oh God! I mean, you know how many parents did that? So many parents did that. Even if it's true, it's stupid. You don't witness anybody like that. Name one person that when you're evangelizing them and they say "I don't know about that part of your theology; I don't think it makes sense," you would reply, "Satan has gone into you; you heretic!" You would never do that if you were witnessing to somebody. But because it's your child and you're used to the seven years of obedience, now, that's where you went off. Don't be that person.

The seven years of establishing authority and obedience is for the purpose of the continuation of this relationship, to navigate them through the growth stage where they're going to want to turn against you. You understand? And if you overdo it in the growth stage, if you come on too hard and you don't respect their journey and that they're trying to search for God, even though they haven't found Him yet; they're not there yet, but they're trying. If you don't even give them any credit or respect for that, they're going to say, "F-you, I'm out of here."

Because think about it, if you're evangelizing somebody you give them credit for the smallest positive comment. Is that true? Like
 - "I don't know about this, but you know that part about the fall, yeah I think that's pretty good."
 **"Isn't it? That's incredible."* You see, you give all this credit. But if your child says
 - "I don't know about this stuff, but you know the chapter 2 stuff, I agree with that."
 * "How DARE YOU? You're a HERETIC! How DARE you not understand? You don't understand True Father's value or Jesus' value!" Oh, okay! You see what I'm saying? You screwed it up. You would never do that in evangelism; you would never do it.

I didn't do that to my kids. We had discussions. Not every day; no, I'm not going to talk to them about it every day. But when they were going through this stuff, we had those discussions. From Daddy's perspective, sometimes it was a little, you know... But I always watched it from the perspective of, "No, I'm going to evangelize them. That's the hat I wear."

Fast is slow, slow is fast. So, if you try to go too hard during that growth stage, it's going to give them every reason for twenty years to hate the church and hate you. You tried to push it fast, so it went slow. Now, after twenty years of mistakes and messing-up, marriages, divorces, and their lives are ruined, they come back at fifty years old. Why? Because you didn't look at them as if you were witnessing them. You went too hard. In their mind, you abused your authority.

You got to strike that balance well. Once they get in that growth stage period, and they're thinking, they're smart, their brain is developing and they think they're intellectual, well you've got to let that develop, and you've got to allow them to have the journey to find God. Don't see that as a bad thing; just the fact that they say, "I don't know if God exists." At that age most go through that. Most okay; not everybody. Some people have the gift of faith; some people don't have any problem with that, but there are a lot of people that do have problems with that. Because the world is telling you, "No, no, no, no, no." It's the opposite, right?

So, in that growth stage period, that's when they're going to be watching you very closely. As a king, are you abusing your authority? As a priest, are you abusing your authority? Mom, as a queen over this kingdom, is she abusing her authority? You see what I'm saying? They're going to be watching you like somebody who is witnessed to.

Okay folks? This is important. At that age you got to change your hat; you got to allow for that journey. They may try to shock you. In fact, the ones that think they're smart they're probably going to try to shock you, "I don't believe in God." You're like, "WHAT? You went to Sunday school every day with me! Oh, how could you do that? True Father is so sad in Heaven!" Oh my gosh! Now you're trying to guilt-shame them. You're trying to use emotional drama queen; you're doing emotional tantrum, using drama tactics to now force them to pretend that they have faith. That's fake. That's not real. They're not going to have faith. That's just drama tactics. Don't play that game. They are not stupid; they know. Do you understand?

Mind & Body Unity Training

So, our next generation of young kings and priests, queens and evangelists you have to understand this process well. That's why mind-and-body unity is so important. That's why we do a lot of training to get you boys and girls trained up mentally in mind-and-body unity. That means you can control your freaking emotions, you can control your mouth, you can control your body. The drama doesn't come out. You CONTROL the dang thing. You have dominion over it. You understand? That's why the training is so important. It doesn't make you perfect, but it makes you higher level at controlling your dang urges.

Because you're going to get worked up, trust me. You're going to want to smack that face. Heck yeah! Are you crazy? Hell yeah! Okay, but you control. You understand? That's important. Look, you have to balance it well. You can't just be like, "Oh, I worship you. You're on a journey!" No, you can't be that kind of loser. If they're going towards Satan you say, "No, you're going towards evil." You have to understand discernment and pass it on.

You can't just be, "Oh well, the King said it, so from seven to fourteen years old, for everything they say, I'm going to be, "Oh, your truth, oh your value, I support your journey." Don't be retarded. Don't be stupid. You still got to give them boundaries in that age. But when you talk about theological issues, issues of faith, now you got to take it back a notch. When they're doing other stuff, like they're getting into drugs and stuff like that, or they're trying to get into friends with alcohol, that's no longer theological. And there are other things you would have to do to counteract that. You understand?

Each situation is going to be different especially if you're putting them in government schools; they're going to have a lot more trouble. Because they're being taught the opposite, and to be openly defiant and to hate you, and to become gay or transgender. Anything that is the worst in their parents' religion, they want to do it, just to spite them and get back at them. This kind of culture, they build in the young kids in the government schools. So, you got to watch out for that.

That's why you've got to be wary. Your children are not called to make disciples in elementary school. Nowhere in the Bible did Jesus say, "Send your children to be salt and light to the elementary school at five-year-olds." NO! They're in the process of growth so you don't throw them into Satan's house. Look at the Garden of Eden; the Garden of Eden, it was God's house. Satan was invading but it was still God's house. He didn't throw him outside of Eden which was something else, right?

So, you got to watch that. You got to bounce. You got to be wise. You can't be, "Oh, the King said you got to accept the journey when they're seven to fourteen." I never said ONLY that! Is that true? I never said only that. When you're talking theological issues, you got to let them work through the issues just as if you were working with somebody that you're witnessing to. You understand? Don't be so crazy. But with other stuff you got to obviously set boundaries; for other stuff, you always get consequences. You have to have a complex brain here, okay? You can't just have this robot brain. That's not how you lead people to want to follow you, especially when they're young. The kids want to find EVERY reason to not follow you. That's just the nature of it; every single reason. Unless you show up and show leadership, and they know that you're not purposely abusing your authority; that you have their best interests in mind, in the long term in terms of God's vision for them.

That's why you got to continue the training and the study, mind-and-body and inner training and also the training in the parents' course; the parents' training and how to deal with the daily stuff in life. But also set the meta goals as the leader and the meta goals for the things that you have to do for your family culture etc. You got to be wrestling with this stuff before you hit it, because if you hit it and try to do it, you're too late; many times, you're too late. Especially if your kids are over sixteen and you've not done that, it's probably going to be a long road. You may have to wait twenty, thirty, forty years. You don't give up, but you may have to wait. That's why you want to start young. Younger is better. You want to start training young.

Continual Improvement

And parents, before we get into marriage and blessing the mind-and-body-unity training is so important. That's why we focus on training, not just the studying. Studying of Scripture is good, but that's just knowledge, brain, theoretical knowledge. Even Divine Principle lectures, that's all theoretical knowledge, but you have to apply it. Just like we saw in Deuteronomy chapter 28, "IF you hear hearken my voice," and what? "FOLLOW my commandments." You can't just hear it and have faith. You have to follow it. What does that mean? You have to actualize it.

That's why Father's favorite Chinese character is what? Jeong Seong Seong 정성성. Words actualized. Can we be perfect at that? No. Are you perfect at that? No. Is the Queen perfect at that? No. Am I perfect at that? No. But we can get closer; every time, we can get closer to it. Amen?

That's why the continual improvement. Kook Jin Nim was talking about that in terms of manufacturing. He can explain it way better than I can, because he understands economics, from an economic study standpoint. Manufacturing now has near perfect production; there are literally almost no flaws; like two defects per thirty million now, or something like that. It's getting literally near to statistical perfection. Mathematically, it's literally to the zero point of no faults in manufacturing. Whereas in the past when you were hand pounding as blacksmiths or whatever, when you had to do it by hand, you had defects, one out of three, one out of five. But nowadays in terms of manufacturing, it's literally gone to statistical mathematical zero.

As people, it's hard to get there, but we can improve. We can do the continual improvement. That's why I'm talking about investing in the assets; when you're young, having an investment mindset, and not thinking of these relationships with your children as just secondary, tertiary, fourth-level things. They have to be high up on our priorities because making a true family is what? One of the three blessings. It's one of the KEY responsibilities God gives us. So, you can't have that behind everything else like jobs and movies and Netflix and vacations. Oh my gosh, you lunatics! You can't have it like that. You've got to have the priority straight. It doesn't mean you're perfect. You don't have to be perfect. It's fine you're not perfect; it's no problem. But you have to be working on it, training on it. Amen!

Parenting Training

This kind of stuff we get into on the parenting training, and that's why the young parents, the young kings and queens plug into that. You can't be perfect but you want to increase the level of probability that your children have a good environment for them to turn towards God and give their life to Christ, to Father and Jesus. And that's where the priesthood and the kingship training come into play, because you want to be able to set that up in your home. What do you have to do? You have to show leadership; You have to show leadership that doesn't abuse its authority, but you have to show leadership. And we can do it. We can't be perfect at it, but we can do it. Let's put it this way. You can be BETTER at it than if you don't train; if don't train you're probably not going to be good at it. But if you do train, you'll be better than if you did not train. Amen! You see that?

Even though you're not the most gifted in terms of leadership, you're going to still do better than if you never did it at all. You see? Same with Jiu-Jitsu or martial arts. Somebody who's trained is going to do better than somebody who is untrained, even though he's not perfect. That's why the mind-and-body unity training is so important when you are young and preparing for marriage. Before marriage you have to learn how to control your emotions and SELF. Boys and girls, it's very important to learn how to control your SELF and control your emotions.

That's the stuff Satan uses to tear your marriage apart over stupid stuff. Have you seen what these people fight about? Literally socks and toothpaste. The stupidest stuff breaks their marriages apart. It's pathetic. Pathetic! How weak do you have to be to get a freaking divorce because of toothpaste? Toothpaste beats you up. Freaking dirty socks beat your ashtray up. Give me a break! The Western world has become a joke; you're supposed to be better than toothpaste and dirty socks. Pathetic!

That's why we got to get back to the Word and to the actualization, the training; that's why it's very, very, important. Amen! I wanted to get more into Deuteronomy 28. We didn't even begin but we have to end now. Let's end now.

Join me in prayer.

Pastor Sean's Reporting Prayer

Father God, we thank You for this beautiful day. We thank You, Father, that You are training all the folks here and throughout the world tuning in, to become those who are INVESTING in Your Kingdom, INVESTING in their blessed spousal marriage with the dates and romance and absolute sex. And INVESTING in the product of that which is their children, INVESTING in the relationships with the children.

Even though we're not perfect, dear God, Your grace covers us, and as long as we TRY and we put effort it will be better than if we did not.

Dear God, we thank You that You are giving us direction and chastisement when we need fixing, a good push and a smack when we need it, but also encouraging us to show us that in the end no matter the situation, there is always hope because whether it takes twenty-two years or fifty years in the end You are the One that has to change the heart. So, we just try to be Your hands and feet and we know that it is YOU that turns the heart.

So dear God, let us not become our own false idols and believe that through all this training WE will do everything. No! Let us be part of that, but let us always understand that in the end YOU are the final witnesser. YOU are the final One that changes the heart. And that's why when our young people go through that time of trying to find You and they find You, we want to CELEBRATE them. That may have come about partially by the support and love of the people around them, but it comes MAXIMALLY and predominantly from the turning of their heart by YOUR touch. By Your touch.

Let us never, ever forget that but at the same time let us not only rely on that and make You do all the work. Let us try to burden some of that work especially when it is OUR asset that we are talking about as our family, our spousal relationship and our relationship with our grandchildren etc.

Father God, we thank You that You are blessing and moving through this world at this critical time. You're changing the atmosphere so that the entire body of Christ is coming to repentance and realization of their fornication sin. The satanic body of Christ culture of dating and fornication is DYING culturally as people are repenting and realizing that a whole generation was lost because they allowed this sex-dating culture. And that Christians, churches, pastors, rabbis and priests must stand AGAINST the culture of fornication, and train our young people to have fun in their youth, but also, to GUARD their SEXUAL organ, have discipline over their sexual organs and desires. And then release that in the power of marriage; to be enjoyed, to be celebrated in MARRIAGE, as they are building strong husband and wife investment and strong family investment for the glory of God. Not for our own glory but for the glory of God.

Father, we thank You because now the entire world is being awakened especially now as they roll out more tyranny, and as World War III is on the horizon. As all these things are unfolding the world is waking up further and further, and as the tyrannies of this world make the good people federal felons, now people are starting to become brave because they're realizing, "Well Jesus was also crucified as a federal felon. I need to be brave like Christ. Father was also crucified and punished and sent to death camp as federal felon for preaching the Gospel and I'm now living in an age that is similar to that where I could be thrown in prison for preaching the Gospel, and now I must realize and tap into HIS strength not mine."

So dear God, it is an incredible time, an epic time, a time of great calamity in the world but at the same time, a time of great revival. Let us have that revival fresh, and the harvest that is at hand, let it be taken for the glory of God.

We want to give You the praise, glory and honor.

We want to strengthen each other,

We want to support the victory of each other.

We want to root for one another as blessed couples and blessed families, and in the end

We want to bring our True Father and our True Mother smiles and joy. As True Parents look at us from Heaven with Jesus that they be smiling and saying "Good job son, good job daughter; doing good boys and girls."

We want to be those types of children, dear God.

Let us have a heart for Your Will and let us have a heart to evangelize and bring new families and spouses to the Kingdom. To help them raise true families and true spouses that can have joy, victory, blessing, and FUN in marriage and building the Kingdom.

We want to give You the glory. We want to give You the praise and the honor with all the kingship lines gathered here together with Your Three Generation Kingship. In Your precious name we pray. Amen and aju! (Applause)

Let's all rise and give the glory to God. Let's praise Him!
