No matter where Joshuas and Calebs who speak the new words of truth would appear in the world, you should become great witnesses and teachers, helping people open the windows of their minds and hearts, to listen to the words, and dedicate their lives for God.

The path Joshua and Caleb walked was full of adventures. Their path was a difficult and pioneering one, as well as one that led to many battles. Wherever they went, they had to face hard tasks to fulfill their missions as pioneers. Sometimes they faced personal tests and trials, and other times they had to deal with challenges caused by the environment. Their course was filled with all kinds of tribulations.

What should you do with yourselves, then? First, you must evaluate and examine yourselves correctly as you stand in the position of being strong and bold. You should be able to critique yourselves if you have any faults.
