

First Victory over Communism Rally (VOC) rally held in Suwon Hall in Seoul

February 10, 1978

The first Victory over Communism (VOC) rally was held in Suwon Hall in Seoul on February 10, 1978.

With 134 foreign participants and over a thousand citizen-guests, the rally was successful.

Dr. Sang Hun Lee, author of the VOC text, explained the significance of the rally, which was held to make a resolution to protect the Republic of Korea, one of the most ardently anti-communist countries in the world.

Korean President Park Chung-hee and U.S. President Jimmy Carter sent congratulatory messages.
