

What did my father's indignation just say?

Sun Myung Moon

May 10, 1952

The Original Text of the Divine Principle [Wolli Wonbon] - Chapter 4 Responsible fundamental significance that is provided even after the ascension of Jesus
Automatic translation

Photo July 4, 1962 - location unknown

When God's body becomes one and a couple can appear, that is the feast of the lamb. Therefore, the day of the first departure of human beings to seek out their root parents and to sacrifice was an important time for the Second Coming. It is the fundamental ideal of God's creation to finally find the human ancestor created on earth, and we must know that the beginning of this original purpose will be fulfilled before the heavenly life begins. It doesn't become. By doing so, people must know that they have come to Heavenly Father as a motherless father throughout history. When I saw a child who couldn't even think of the fundamental meaning of being a heavenly father without a mother, the wrath of his father was just to say, or in the meantime, the pain that could not be resolved throughout God's life. You can know the fact throughout history. As a result, the saints and heaven have long been waiting for the day, which is the purpose of starting the family organization of children only after the establishment of heavenly parents. (The Original Text of the Divine Principle [Wolli Wonbon] P. 278)

So what is the purpose of the creative intention? Heavenly parents are the basic purpose, but Heavenly Father alone has conveyed the incompleteness of the creative purpose so far. We must know that being masculine means that creation has not yet been fulfilled. (The Original Text of the Divine Principle [Wolli Wonbon] P. 631)