

Father and Mother have given us all the tools we need in order to save this world

Un Jin Moon
July 22, 2002

As human beings, we all have wants and desires. For sisters, it might be jewelry or nice clothes; brothers might wish they had a sporty coupe or even just a Volkswagen!

Maybe you would like to have a nice suit, be some kind of leader, or simply be able to support your family. If you have those human desires, then don't you think your parents have desires too? You cannot put Father and Mother in a different category from ourselves; they are human beings, too -- they have feelings! What if Father and Mother got frustrated as all of us do? We get frustrated, and maybe we don't like the food or we just can't seem to get out of bed in the morning, or are just upset; yet Father and Mother have no excuse; they can't be that way. They have no outlet. Even at home in East Garden they have no private life. From 7 a.m. until 12 midnight or 2 a.m. the following morning, Father is up working. They've always led a public life. Even though you might think Father is living in luxurious surroundings, you could take it all away from Father and it would not matter to him one bit.

Actually, Father and Mother have given us all the tools we need in order to save this world; they have shown us the way to live our lives.